V. Business Items

1. DISCUSSION/ACTION

Title: Social Media Guidelines

This item is to discuss the social media guidelines with next term's Chair of Marketing and Communications, Sunnie Chen.

Presenter: Sunnie Chen

Time: 15 minutes

- Marketing stipulated that members of the committee must be utilizing social media to connect with students at least 3x a week
 - The social media guidelines from OCL say at least 1x a week and is still in draft
 - We can make suggested changes to the guidelines
- Sunnie asking how does the social media guidelines affect the senate
 - Fatema: all students will have to follow social media guidelines esp Senate so Marketing code should be more specific than OCL guidelines in terms of moderation
- Time extended by 10 minutes from Fatema, seconded by Ananya
- Social Media Guidelines will likely not get student input, similar to how code of conduct don't really have input
 - Fatema think we should see how previous codes are being implemented
- To clarify: social media guidelines are for student groups that specify what is said in the student code of conduct
 - Already stipulated that on any platform virtual or in-person students must abided by rules
- Sunnie worried about students feeling like they can't speak freely anywhere
- Fatema stating that this will be guidelines from the College not DASG
- Charis suggest that code of conduct/guidelines be added to conditions of joining

- Fatema thinks that people won't follow it immediately (because it isn't enforced)
- Lianna suggesting that we add this code of conduct to orientation to be informed before joining De Anza
- Sunnie concerned that implementing this will be a problem on the stem server
 - Esha shares that this isn't an enforcement thing but a reporting system
 - A set of rules that when broken need to be filed
- Moderation is still up for discussion, only things are under DASG Student groups there will be 1 elections member to regulate/moderate elections-created and –controlled groups and 3 marketing and comm members for their own created and controlled marketing and comm platforms
- Sunnie: do we need to share the extent of consequences?
 - This is already made aware to students
- Sunnie shares that students do not want to come to Senate to raise concerns so she is worried that if we implement guidelines students will feel censored
- Clarified again that student code of conduct and social media guidelines already in place that students have to follow also this is up to college
